

RACE IS THE PLACE

by Raymond Telles and Rick Tejada-Flores

BEWARE

Information on special preview screenings
in your community listed on the back!

www.pbs.org/independentlens

itvs
community
CINEMA

[i]NDEPENDENTLENS

RACE IS THE PLACE, by Raymond Telles and Rick Tejada-Flores, offers a new and compelling look at one of the most explosive issues in America today. This video performance documentary presents a bold, lyrical, and often poetical montage of performances by established artists and up-and-coming young talent from minority communities who use words—spoken, sung or chanted—to get their message across. Each explores racism and its continued survival in this country, and each finds a new an innovative way to engage audiences and challenge them to think beyond our traditional conceptions, viewing race through the lens of creativity and performance to stimulate thought and debate.

RACE IS THE PLACE WILL AIR NATIONALLY ON THE EMMY AWARD-WINNING PBS SERIES INDEPENDENT LENS ON NOVEMBER 22, 2005 AT 10:00 PM, CHECK LOCAL LISTINGS.

To find out more about ITVS Community Cinema visit www.itvs.org/outreach

RACE IS THE PLACE is a co-production of Paradigm Productions Inc. and KERA Dallas/Fort Worth in association with the Independent Television Service (ITVS) and the National Minority Consortia with funding provided by the Corporation for Public Broadcasting. Additional funding from the Akonadi Foundation, the Annie E. Casey Foundation, Wallace Alexander Gerbode Foundation, the Pohaku Fund, and the LEF Foundation.

Independent Television Service (ITVS) • 501 York Street • San Francisco, CA 94110
Phone: 415.356.8383 • email: itvs@itvs.org • web: www.itvs.org